VEGETINE

Is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

CURED ME.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 29, 1876.

H. R. Stevens, Esq.:

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for the last three or four years with Liver Complaint and Kidney troubles. Previous to taking the Vegetine I was under the doctor's care for a long time, but he did not help me. My friends all thought I would not recover. I began using the Vegetine, and realized good effect from it right away. I had taken but three bottles before I was much better. I continued taking a few bottles more and can now truly say I am enjoying the best of health. I have given it to my little daughter with great success. Since it has done me so much good I have recommended it to several and they have all been greatly benefited by its use.

Respectfully,
I. C. SMITH,
94 S. Francis street.
Place of business 72 West Avenue.

Mr. Smith is a well-known dealer in stoves and tinware, for many years in business in Rochester.

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., are always unpleasant, and at times they become the most distressing and dangerous diseases that can affect the human system. Most diseases of the Kidneys arise from impurities in the blood, causing humors which settle on these parts. Vegetine excels any known remedy in the whole world for cleansing and purifying the blood, thereby causing a healthy action to all the organs of the body.

VEGETINE WILL CURE RHEUMATISM.

SPRINGVILLE, ME. Oct. 12, 1876.

Mr. H. R. Stevens:—

Dear Sir,—Fifteen years ago last fall I was taken sick with rheumatism and was unable to move until the next April. From that time until three years ago this fall I suffered everything with rheumatism. Sometimes there would be weeks at a time that I could not step one step; these attacks were quite often. I suffered everything that a man could. Over three years ago last spring I commenced taking Vegetine and followed it up until I had seven bottles; have no rheumatism since that time. I always advise every one who is troubled with rheumatism to try Vegetine, and not suffer for years as I have done. This statement is gratuitous as far as Mr. Stevens is concerned. Yours, etc.,

ALBERT CROOKER,
Firm of A. Crooker & Co., Druggists and Apothecaries.

VEGETINE.
Rheumatism is a Disease of the Blood.

The blood, in this disease, is found to contain an excess of fibrin. Vegetine acts by converting the blood from its diseased condition to a healthy circulation. Vegetine regulates the bowels which is very important in this complaint. One bottle of Vegetine will give relief, but to effect a permanent cure it must be taken regularly, and may take several bottles, especially in cases of long standing. Vegetine is sold by all druggists. Try it, and your verdict will be the same as that of thousands before you, who say, "I never found so much relief as from the use of Vegetine," which is composed exclusively of barks, roots and herbs.

VEGETINE

Vegetine has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.
Vegetine is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE
Is Prepared by
H. R. STEVENS, Boston,
Vegetine is sold by all Druggists.

The Great New Medicine!

DR. J. WALKER'S SIERRA NEVADA
VIGORENE

A Health-Giving Power!
PURIFIES THE BLOOD,
INVIGORATES THE LIVER,
PROMOTES DIGESTION, and
STRENGTHENS THE NERVES,
Thus effectually curing disease of whatever name or nature. It is worthy of a trial. RELIEF guaranteed.

VIGORENE

Is AGREEABLE to the taste, GRATEFUL to the stomach, and acts efficiently as a CATHARTIC, ALTERATIVE and DIURETIC. Its action is not attended with any unpleasant feeling, neither is languour nor debility experienced, but on the contrary, refreshment and invigoration.

Its immediate effect upon the digestive organs, whether impaired by disease or exhausted from any cause, is to increase their powers of assimilation and nutrition, the appetite being increased at once. To those affected with an engorged condition of the liver, as Biliousness, characterized by a dusky complexion, a coated tongue, a pasty, bad taste in the mouth, a capricious appetite and sluggish action of the bowels, with a sense of fullness in the head and of mental dullness, VIGORENE proves most valuable.

Its effect upon the kidneys is no less happy, a turbid, irritating urine is quickly cleared up by it.

Inflammatory and Chronic RHEUMATISM will soon disappear by a persistent use of VIGORENE.

For the cure of Skin Diseases and Eruptions of all kinds, VIGORENE is most certain.

VIGORENE is composed of the active properties of HERBS, ROOTS, GUMS and BARKS, that Nature alone furnishes, great care being taken by us that they are gathered at the right season of the year, and that they possess their native virtues.

That VIGORENE has the power to PURIFY THE BLOOD, INVIGORATE the LIVER, and STIMULATE the DIGESTIVE ORGANS, is indisputably proven by those who have given it a trial and have been permanently cured.

We do not ask you to try a dozen bottles to experience relief, for we GUARANTEE you will feel better from the first few doses.

VIGORENE is astonishing the world with its cures, and is throwing all other TONICS, ALTERATIVES and INVIGORANTS, into the shade. Put up in large bottles, double strength. Requires small doses, and is pleasant to take.

Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

Roads and Road-makinog.

A few weeks ago the Baltimore Sun had a the following excellent editorial on "Roads and Road-making." Its remarks apply as fully to Pennsylvania as to Maryland. At this season especially the subject should receive consideration; and the suggestion of the Farmers' Social that supervisors go into office about the first of March ought to be so universally acceptable as to bring about the needed legislation at an early day. The Sun says:

The question of county roads is again to be brought before the General Assembly of Maryland at the coming session. It has scarcely engaged with us, until now, the attention its importance merits. Few country people know what a good road, highway or turnpike should be; fewer still realize the great advantages their construction affords, even when the work is done, in the first instance, at a high cost. The foundation, the drainage, the grading, the materials, their preparation and size; the kind of stone, where stones can be used; the benefit of sand or gravel, the proper slope to be given, the merits of hillside or valley—scarcely any of these points are understood by one person in five hundred outside of the profession of engineering. Good roads are one of the best elements of prosperity to a State. In some of the states the roads are natural and durable ones. It is only necessary to make them and there they remain. In the Connecticut Valley, for instance, the soil is sandy, with a porous gravel sub-soil. Such roads seldom wash. There is no mud. They are hard, compact and smooth the year round. Of like excellence and durability are some of the roads in the Valley of Virginia, although there the material is stone Nature has not so favored Maryland. Roads with us must be kept in repair at considerable labor and expense. Then comes the problem as to whether it will pay to expend any large sum upon them, and the not less puzzling query as to the best manner of outlay, so as to combine good work with honesty and efficiency of supervision. It is well known that Baltimore county gets very little return for the present heavy tax for roads, notwithstanding the minute provisions of the law concerning them. When this matter comes before the General Assembly its consideration will be especially urged by the delegates of Baltimore county.

Whatever measure may be devised for improving our county roads, it should be fully understood that good roads save wagons and horses, make saleable farms and increase trade. As to markets a turnpike of eighteen miles is better than ordinary country road of half that distance. Frequently a mile from a macadamized pike takes more out a team in wear and tear than all the rest of way. The calculation of resistance to travel of different kinds of roads has been carefully made and this is the record:

	Force to move a Carriage.
Turnpike,	30½ lbs.
Compact Loam,	53 "
Ordinary county road,	166 "
Loose sandy road,	204 "

It will be seen that between the first and last of these the difference is enormous, and that between a turnpike and an ordinary county road, as we now make them, the ease of attraction is more than three to one in favor of the former. There are few roads in Baltimore county that are well made, or that will stand the rains of summer and the frost of winter, and such roads have usually been constructed partly if not wholly at the expense of the adjoining property owners. All other roads are radically bad, and the patching done to them makes them no better. For the county road maker to throw dirt from the sides to the middle of the road, scoop out a shallow ditch to carry off the water, and put rough water breaks at intervals on declivities, are the extent of scientific acquirements. After a heavy rain the dirt is frequently washed off again, and if it remains in winter it freezes and thaws, and the horses plough through it up to their fetlocks. This is not road making. It is simply a weste of the money of the taxpayer.

FORT SUMTER.

DEMAND FOR SURRENDER—ANDERSON'S REFUSAL—THE FIRST SHOT.

Gen. S. W. Crawford, in Phila. Weekly Times

THE EVACUATION DEMANDED.

On the morning of the 11th of April, the dawn of day disclosed an activity at once unusual and significant over the entire harbor. The waters were covered with vessels hastily putting to sea. An iron-clad floating battery of four guns, the construction of which in Charleston had been watched by the garrison for months, was towed down the bay to a point at the western end of Sullivan's Island, where its guns bore directly upon Fort Sumter. A wooden dwelling on the beach, near the end of the island, was pulled down and unmasked a land work, mounting four guns, hitherto unknown to the garrison. Its fire would enfilade the most important battery of Fort Sumter, which was upon the parapet of the right flank of the work, and whose guns were mainly relied upon to control the fire from the heavy guns on Cumming's Point, that would take the fort in reverse. Bodies of troops were landed and the batteries on shore fully manned, and every preparation completed, when, at four o'clock P. M., a boat under a white flag approached the fort. Twa officials, aides-de-camp of general commanding the Confederate forces in the harbor, Colonel Chestnut and Captain S. D. Lee, were admitted to the guard room just inside the main entrance to the work. They bore a communication from the military commandant at Charleston, and to the following effect. It stated that the Government of the Confederate States had hitherto forborne from any hostile demonstration against Fort Sumter, in the hope that the General Government would voluntarily evacuate it in order to avert war, and that there was reason to believe that such would have been the course pursued, but that the Confederate Government would no longer delay "assuming actual possession" of a fortification so important to it. The evacuation of Fort Sumter was demanded in the name of the Government of the Confederate States. All proper facilities were tendered to Major Andrrson for the removal of himself and his command. He was to take with him his company and private property and to salute his flag upon taking it down.

THE DEMAND REFUSED.

Calling the officers of the garrison into his private room, he laid the communication before them, and then for the first time made known to them the confidential dispatch from the government, received a few days previously, in which their determination to relieve the fort was expressed, and instructions in regard to it conveyed. In this communication authority was given him to capitulate when the necessity of the case required it. The conference of the officers was long and earnest. There was no thought for a moment of acceding to the demand for the evacuation of the fort, and the following reply was returned by Major Anderson: "That the demand for the evacution of the fort was one with which he regretted that his sense of honor and his obligations to his government prevented his compliance." On receiving this communication the Confederate officers left the fort. The entire interview was characterized by every courtesy, though more distant and formal than in previous conferences. They were followed to the main gate of the work by Major Anderson and the writer of this article. As they were about to embark, Major Anderson remarked in their hearing that he would be starved out any way in a few days, if their guns did not batter him to pieces and this was repeated more specifically to the Confederate officers in reply to their inquiries on the subject. As the boat returned, the batteries around were covered with spectators all anxiously watching the result of the mission.

A MILITARY CONFERENCE.

Renewed activity prevailed. Inside the fort powder was taken from the magazines, which were now closed, ammunitions were served to the batteries and the details of the men made to serve them. Careful instructions were given to use the utmost economy in regard to what food was left, and the officers were directed not to unnecessarily expose the men. Outside the steamers, large and small, were plying in every direction. The buoy which marked the turn into the harbor from the main channel, and, which alone had been suffered to remain, was taken up at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Its place was supplied by three hulks loaded with combustible material, the evident object of which was to light the channel should the fleet, whose arrival was now hourly anticipated, attempt to enter by night. They were anchored directly under the guns of Fort Moultrie. In this state of preparation the night of the 11th of April closed upon the harbor. Toward midnight the officers of the garrison were aroused by the report of the officer of the day that a boat under a white flag had arrived and two messengers from the Confederate authorities had again come to the work. It was now 1.30 in the morning, when the aids of the military commandant of the Confederate forces, acompanied by Colonel Chisholm and Mr. Roger A. Pryor, of Virginia, entered the work. They bore a letter from Brigadier General Beauregard, commanding Provisional Army Confederate States of America, to Major Anderson, to the effect that in consequence of the verbal observation made to his aids in relation to the condition of his supplies and that he would be soon starved out, he had communicated the same to his government. The proposition was then made to him that if he would state the time at which he would evacuate the fort, and that meanwhile he would agree not to use his guns against the Confederate forces unless theirs should be employed against Fort Sumter, General Beauregard would abstain from opening fire upon him, and that his aides were authorized to enter into such an arrangement.

MAJOR ANDERSON'S REPLY.

Again the officers of the garrison were assembled in consultation, and a long deliberation followed. The question which engaged the most series consideration was in regard to the provisions in the fort, and how far the men, who were now without sufficient or proper food, could be relied upon for resistence. The bread supplies of the garrison were exhausted; nothing remained but short rations of pork and coffee. Still it was earnestly desired that the utmost expectations of the government should be realized, and it was determined to hold out to the period desired by them, the 15th instant. It was agreed that the terms proposed, which would tie the hands of the garrison and neutralize its fire, could not be acceded to, and a reply to the following effect was made by Major Anderson: "That if provided with proper means he would evacuate the fort at noon on the 15th instant, provided he should not receive controlling instructions or additional supplies from his government; that he would not open the fire of his batteries unless compelled to do so by some hostile act or demonstration by the Confederate forces against his fort or the flag it bore." No sooner had Colonel Chestnut, the officer to whom it was handed read the reply of Major Anderson than he pronounced it unsatisfactory, and made the following reply in writing:

FORT SUMTER, S. C. April 12, 1861—3.20 A. M.

Sir: By authority of Brigadier General Beauregard, commanding the Provisional forces of the Confederate States, we have the honor to notify you that he will open the fire of his batteries upon Fort Sumter in one hour from this time. We have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servants.

JAMES CHESTNUT, Jr. Aid-de-camp,
STEPHEN D. LEE, Captain C. S. and A. D. C.

To Maj. R. Anderson, U. S. A., comd'g Fort Sumter.

Positive instructions from the Confederate Government had been sent to their agent in Charleston harbor that if this last proposition to Major Anderson was refused by him, he should reduce the fort as his judgment decided to be most practicable. But little conversation followed the delivery to tho aides of the reply of Major Anderson. An inquiry as to the exact time in the morning was made, which was found to be 3.30 A. M.

THE FIRST GUN OF THE WAR.

The Confederate officers left the fort without any formal leave-taking, and their boat soon disappeared in the darkness. Upon their arrival in Charleston, and the delivery of Major Anderson's response, a telegraph was sent to Montgomery, informing the authorities that Major Anderson "would not consent." Inside the work the men were informed of what had happened, and directed to await the summons to the guns. No fire was to be returned until daylight. The night was calm and clear and the sea was still. Fires were lightdd in all the Confederate works, when, at 4.30 A. M., the silence was broken by the discharge of a mortar from a battery near Fort Johnson, within easy range of the work; a shell rose high in the air and burst directly over Fort Sumter; its echo died away and all was still again; when suddenly fire was opened from every battery of the enemy. At daylight all the guns of Fort Sumter opened, and the fire steadily continued all day. During the night of the 12th the accurate range of the mortars lodged a shell in the parade or about the work at intervals of fifteen minutes. It was estimated that over 2,500 shot and shell struck the fort during the first twenty four hours. By morning the fleet sent to our assistance appeared off the bar but did not enter. At 8.30 on the 13th the quarters took fire from the effect of hot shot and could not be extinguished, and soon the entire barracks were in a blaze. The barrels containing powder were thrown into the sea. At 1.20 on the 13th the flagstaff, having been struck four times, was shot away and the flag replaced upon the parapet. The firing upon the work was severe and continued; the return was slow and feeble, sounding like signals of distress to the nation, and finally ceased altogether. Seeing the condition of things, a Colonel Wigfall pushed out in an open boat from Cumming's Point, unauthorized it is true, and learning from Major Anderson that he would evacuate the fort upon the terms originally proposed to him, returned and communicated with General Beauregard, who immediately sent a commission authorized to arrange terms for the evacuation, which were soon agreed upon. The garrison was transferred to the large transport lying off the bar, and was soon on its way to the North. Many an eye turned toward the disappearing fort, and as it sank at last upon the horizon the smoke-cloud still hung heavily overt he parapet.

A sharp old farmer who had read the story of the lawyer and the farmer and gored ox, called upon a neighboring lawyer and said:

'Friend Foxcraft, I very much desire to ask your opinion.

'I am all attention,' replied the lawyer, laying down the pen.

'Supposing, Friend Foxcraft, that my dog had gone into thy pantry and stolen a leg of thy mutton; what ought I to do?'

'Pay for the mutton; nothing can be clearer.'

'Exactly. Friend Foxcraft; and now know thou, that thy dog Pinchem, whom I well know by sight, hath stolen a leg of my mutton from my pantry, worth exactly one dollar; and now what art thou going to do?'

'Pay for the mutton of course; here is the change.'

'The good Quaker took his dollar and was about to depart when he was stopped by the lawyer with:

'Hold on a moment, my friend, I have a little bill against you, which I hope you are ready to pay.'

'Bill against me, Friend Foxcraft? Thou art surely laboring under a mistake. I am sure I owe no man a shilling.'

'No mistake at all. I charge you my regular fee of five dollars for professional advice in this case.

'Then, verily I must pay thee, but allow me to give it as my opinion, Friend Foxcraft, that I have touched pitch and been sadly defiled.'

Horace Greeley's estate which was inventoried at $206,000 shortly after his death, yields little more $20,000 on the financial settlement. In turning over to Surrogate Coffin some Tribune stock that the the founder of the Tribune held at the time of his death, the Executors say that it has no market value and cannot be sold, and the poor heirs hoping that the Tribune stock may become saleable at a remote date in the future, have elected to hold them. Tribune shares cannot well depreciate any further on their hands.—*N. The Columbian.

BROCKWAY & ELWELL, Editors.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Friday, Feb. 1, 1878.

An Act to consolidate the several road and bridge laws of this Commonwealth, and to lay out, make, build and repair the several roads and bridges thereof, has been introduced in the Legislature. It is lengthy, and if passed will be published in full in this paper.

The subject of creating a new county from parts of Wayne, Susquehanna and Luzerne, to be called Moosic county, with Carbondale as the county seat, is being agitated in that section. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in Carbondale last week to consider the question. Resolutions were passed disapproving the Lackawanna county project and favoring a law fixing the necessary population at the minimum of 20,000, as specified by the new Constitution.—Pittston Gazette.

Complimentary to Senator Allen.

The Harrisburg correspondent of the Pittsburg Telegraph, writing to that paper, speaks of the Lycoming county Senator as follows:

Senator R. P. Allen appeared in his seat this evening, after a few days' absence. The gentleman is announced as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket by Madame Rumor. It is but simple justice to Mr. Allen to say that not a single man has been named for this position who would bring greater intelligence, culture or dignity to the position.

Famine in China.

The following was received in New York Saturday by Mr. A. A. Low, from the United States vice consul at Shanghai:

"Appalling famine is raging throughout four provinces of north China. Nine millions people reported destitute. Children daily sold for food. Foreign relief committee appeals to America and England for assistance; requests you form American relief committee. Collect funds and deposit with agent Hong Kong bank.

"STAHL, United States vice consul."

The Local Option Law.

Harrisburg, January 28.—The Local Optionists have virtually given up the fight on the bill providing for the submission of "license" or "no license" to the voters of the several counties in February, 1879, and, in expectation of defeat, Representative Stewart, author of the local option act, introduced a bill to night which embodies the feature of the Kansas liquor law, in which State no license is allowed to be granted unless the signatures of a majority of men and women (twenty-one years old and over) in the district in which the application be made is obtained to a petition for license. But this bill will share the fate of its predecessor and the Local Optionists will have to look to a subsequent Legislature for redress.

Galush A. Grow is actively engaged in laying wires for his nomination for governor by the Republican party. Mr. Grow seems to be the only man who thinks Mr. Grow would make o good governor, and consequently he finds his task by no means an easy one Col. Hoyt, of Luzerne county has captured the Camerons, and of course has the inside track. Our advice to both of these gentlemen however is not to spend much time or money in their ambition to run the State. We are of the opinion that the next governor of Pennsylvania will not be of their party. The Democrats propose to have something to say about who it will be, and we should not be surprised if his name is spelled with a D, an i and two l's.

TOO THIN!

We clip the following from yesterday's Patriot:

FLIGHT OF REPRESENTATIVE BULLARD.

The citizens of Harrisburg, members of the legislature and others, were not a little surprised to learn yesterday morning that O. F. Bullard, the republican representative from Delaware county, who was ordered by the house of representatives on Tuesday, to be remanded to the Delaware county jail for an offense already known to our readers—had made his escape from the seargant-at-arms of the house, Mr. Gaines, in whose custody Bullard had been placed for several weeks past. Mr. Gaines last saw his man on Tuesday night in the room of representative S. S. Jones, of Luzerne. He had intended to take Bullard to Delaware county yesterday, and when he looked after his charge at half past seven o'clock yesterday morning he was almost dumfounded to learn that Bullard had quietly slipped out of the room and disappeared. Search was instituted at once and in a short time a clue was found from which it was learned that Bullard had been noticed purchasing a ticket at the Philadelphia and Reading depot for the 5:20 train east, over the Lebanon Valley railroad for Reading. The sergeant-at-arms telegraphed to the principal points in the state, giving a description of the fugitive, and the probability is he will be captured before many days.

Bullard was confessedly guilty,—Oscar Gaines, the sergeant-at-arms, is not an ass, and among them they let Bullard "skip."

Are You Gaining?

If you are gaining a little every day be content. Are your expenses less than your income, so that, though it be little, you are yet constantly accumulating and growing richer every day? Be content, for as concerns money, you are doing well. Are you gaining knowledge every day? Though it be little, the aggregate of the accumulation, where no day is permitted to pass without adding something to the stock, will be surprising to yourself. Solomon did not become the wisest man in the world in a minute. Little by little—never omitting to learn something, even for a single day—always reading, always studying a little between the time of rising up in the morning and lying down at night—this is the way to accumulate a full storehouse of knowledge. Finally, are you daily gaining in character? Be not discouraged because it be little by little. The best men fall short of what they would wish to be. It is something, it is much if you keep good resolutions better to-day than you did yesterday, better this year than you did last year. Strive to be perfect, but not to become downhearted so long as you are approaching nearer and nearer to the high standard at which you aim. Little by little fortunes are accumulated; little by little character and reputation are achieved.

THE RUSSO-TURCAN WAR.

The Russians have lost about 100,000 men in 10 months;—the other material losses are incalculable. The Ottaman Empire would lose everything if the Russians pressed them to the wall. But the English nation, with all its love for Christianity, and its immense benevolence in the way of cheap Bibles for those who cannot read them, would prefer that British bayonets and ironclads, for the sake of trade, should uphold Moslem power than see it suppressed. But England is too late. The case stands now as follows:

"The latest authentic advices from Constantinople do not confirm the statement in the special despatch from that city to the Standard that the Porte has received a despatch to the effect that the preliminaries of peace have been signed and that the Turkish delegates and the Grand Duke Nicholas would reach Adrianople on Saturday. The Porte had no advice of the conclusion of an armistice, though orders were telegraphed to the Turkish plenipotentiaries on Friday to accept the preliminaries of peace. The delay causes apprehension that the armistice may be accompanied by onerous conditions. The Porte is now in the peculiar condition of having accepted terms of peace without knowing on what conditions an armistice will be granted. An armistice, if properly handled, must make the Russians more than ever masters of the situation. They are at liberty to fix, not only the line of demarcation, but the time during which they may remain in possession of the territory occupied. This will leave their hands free to settle details according to their own views, which, in the peace preliminaries, have given place to general principles, thus: In the latter with regard to Bulgaria, the future limits of this province do not appear to have been specified, nor the degree to which autonomy of Bulgaria or reforms in Bosnia and Herzegovinia are to extend. The same seems to be the case with regard to an increase of territory for Montenegro.

The cession of Roumanian Bessarabia is not mentioned, and the question of the Dardanelles is reserved. Nor is anything said about a march into or through Constantinople, which seems rather to be a matter connected with the suspension of arms. Meantime the Russians, Servians, Roumanians and Montenegrins are pushing military operations with great vigor about Widdin, Prisrend, Lake Scutari and Silistria, and in the Maritza Valley east of Adrianople. From all these points war bulletins are received, showing no abatement of the offensive operations by the allies. Suleiman Pasha's army continues to embark. Six Egyptian transports have been ordered to Kavala to assist in the operation. Up to Saturday evening Safvet Pasha (Acting Foreign Minister during the absence on the peace commission of Server Pasha) persisted in his refusal to infrom Mr. Layard the British Ambassador, of the terms of peace, showing that the Porte has been pledged by Russia to keep them secret."

Our sympathies are with Russia.

MORE RASCALS COMING TO GRIEF.

Ever since the fraudulent counting in of Hayes, evidence has been accumulating to show the monstrous rascality of the scheme, nor can we cease to wonder at the patience of the Democratic party which permitted it. Tilden received a popular majority of 250,000, and the electoral votes of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, out of which he was defrauded. Hayes was quick to admit the Democratic successes in those States, and yielded to the induction of the Democratic officials into office, although their title was not so good as that of Chamberlain, Packard, and others. Even staunch Republicans now see the fraud by which their candidate was seated.

Justice, however, is reaching out her arms to punish the instruments of this great crime, and at last has commenced operations in Louisiana by arresting the late Returning Board of that State. As heretofore, the criminals sought refuge in the New Orleans Custom House. Speaking of the event, the Philadelphia Ledger, a staid Republican journal, says:

"Mr. Returning Board Wells, of Louisiana, and his colleagues, are manifestly of the opinion that a modern custom house building in New Orleans has the same efficacy as a sanctuary for fugitive offenders that a church or other ecclesiastical edifice had in feudal times in Europe. Summoned before the State Courts they took refuge on Saturday in the Custom House to escape service of process, a United States Marshal was called to protect them, and he was backed by sailors from a revenue cutter. All this was strictly according to regulation practice in Louisiana, in former and quite recent times, but the present incumbents of the Federal offices in New Orleans should have memories long and strong enough to recollect that that the United States Government went out of practice in that line nearly a year ago. There was a great hub-bub over the matter for a few hours on Saturday, but it was all quieted down by a brief instruction from the Attorney General at Washington to the United States marshal to stop all interference with the process of State Courts. While the affair lasted, there was a big mountain of fuss, but the final issue was a very ridiculous little mouse."

CONGRESS AGAINST SUBSIDIES.

THE SILVER BILL.

It is a matter for sincere congratulation that Congress has at last put itself on record against the granting of subsidies. Our people are under obligations to our member, Hon. F. D. Collins for his favorable vote. The following Press Dispatch gives the views of these measures at Washington, and the votes of Pennsylvania members:

WASHINGTON, January 28.

The House, by more than two-thirds majority, passed a resolution presented by Mr. Mr. Baker, of Indiana, declaring against the granting of subsidies. The vote was much larger than had been expected, but too much reliance should not be placed upon such a vote. It is not an iron-bound record. Similar votes have been taken in other Congresses and the same men have subsequently, in the same Congress, voted the most liberal subsidies. They are likely to do so in this Congress. There were many votes given for this resolution this afternoon which are certain to be given to the various subsidies.

The vote of the Pennsylvania members on the anti-subsidy resolution was as follows:

Yeas—Bayne, Campbell, Freeman, Overton, Shellenbarger, Smith and Watson Republicans, and Clymer, Collins, Maish, Reilly, Stenger, Turney and Wright, Democrats.

Nays—Errett, Evans, Harmer, Kelly, Killinger, O'Neill and Thompson, Republicans, and Bridges, Democrat.

Not voting Ward and White.

On the Matthew's silver resolution the vote was as follows:

Yeas—Bayne, Errett, Kelley, Killinger, Shellenbarger, Thompson and White, Republicans, and Bridges, Clymer, Collins, Maish, Reilly, Turney and Wright, Democrats.

Nays—Campbell, Evans, Freeman, Harmer, O'Neill, Overton, Smith and Watson, Republicans, and Stenger, Democrat.

Not voting, Ward and Mitchell.

Below we give the text of the Matthew' Resolution, which passed in the Senate on Saturday by a vote of 43 yeas to 22 nays:

Resolved, By the Senate (the house of representatives concurring therein.) That all tne bonds of she United States issued or authorized to be issued under the said acts of Congress hereinbefore reiterated are payable, principal and interest, at the option of the government of the Mnited States, in silver dollars of the coinage of the United States, containing 412½ grains each of standard silver, and that to restore to its coinage such silver coins as a legal tender in payment of said bonds, principal and interests, is not in violation of the public faith nor derogatory of the right of the public credit.

PIPE LINES.

Our oil producing counties are much agitated over the proposed new pipe line which proposes to give the producers a new outlet. Why should they not have it, if they are are willing to build and pay for it? If they can get their oil to market cheaper than they now do by the construction of an additional line, they should have the privilege of doing so. If consumers can get oil cheaper by it, they are also the gainers. It is well known that the present means of transportation are in the hands of a monopoly, who care nothing for any interest but their own. To oppose healthy competition is not policy for the people. It might as well be argued that the North & West Branch R. R. should not be built, because the L. & B. is in existence and a competing line.

The argument against pipe lines, that they will inflict injury upon parties that have invested money in more costly means of transportation, is an equally good argument against sewing machines and mowing machines. A costlier plan of making breeches and making hay was abandoned for cheaper, swifter, better methods, just as railroads superseded to a large extent the use of turnpikes and canals.

The usual reasons assigned for Blaine's assault upon Massachusetts appear to be erroneous. Some allege that it was caused by the obtuseness of Massachusetts republicans in failing to recognize the greatness of the Maine statesman at Cincinnati, and others say that it was on account of Mulligan. But these are mistakes. Blaine himself has explained the cause of his Olympic rage. It was all along of Daniel Webster and the Ashburton treaty. For thirty years it has generally been supposed that the treaty negotiated by Webster with Lord Ashburton was quite a diplomatic success of the great Massachusetts statesman. The treaty gave to Maine the British settlement of Madawaska with about seven-twelfths of the disputed territory. And what was still more important, it prevented a conflict between the two countries over a region that was not worth going to war about. But Blaine now says that Maine should have had the whole of the territory, and he reproaches the memory of Webster for its loss. The country nevertheless will rest satisfied with the settlement as it stands. The accession of a few thousand Blue Noses more or less under the Ashburton treaty would have been of small consequence. Webster concluded that they were not worth a quarrel and the wisdom and patriotism of his course have been approved by the country. Had he ceded the whole of Maine Blaine would probably be now thundering in the parliament of the Dominion at Ottawa or teaching school in Madawaska instead of assailing the memory of Daniel Webster in the senate of the United States. It is plain that Webster had the better of the trade with Ashburton though the concession of the whole of Maine would have been no serious loss.—Patriot.

HARRISBURG LETTER.

Legislative Correspondence.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 30, 1878.

The great anxiety of the average small politician to keep on the right side of the fence and avoid making a record that might be difficult to straddle at some future time was strikingly demonstrated in the House of Representatives on last Monday evening. Mr. Quigley, a rather sensational democrat from Clinton county, offered a resolution expressing the thanks of the House to Hon. Wm. A. Wallace and Hon. J. D. Cameron for their action in voting for the Matthews resolutions which declare that the United States Bonds may be paid in silver coin. The dodging and squirming that took place when this resolution was read was disgusting as well as amusing. Notwithstanding the fact that the resolution was so worded as to compliment both a democratic and a republican leader and Senator, more than one-half of the members of the House were afraid to meet the issue and either made a hasty exit from the Hall or sat in their seats and did not answer when their names were called. Only 83 men had the nerve to put themselves on record on this all-absorbing and important question, while 117 were absent or did not vote. No one accuses the average Pennsylvania legislator of possessing an undue amount of brilliancy or quickness of aprehension, but it does seem that it is almost time that they were able to have an intelligent opinion upon this much ventilated silver question.

On Tuesday morning the house disposed of the case of Hon. O. F. Bullard summarily and suddenly. The Judiciary committee presented a long report, the gist of which was that there were no precedents in England or America to show that members of Parliament, Congress or other legislative bodies were privileged from arrest when charged with criminal acts, and recommending that Mr. Bullard be remanded to the custody of the jailor of Delaware county, from which he had been taken by the order of the House. To this the House agreed by an almost unanimous vote, only 5 or 6 votes being recorded in the negative.

Petitions praying for the re-enactment of the Local Option Law pour into the Senate and House every day but apparently have no effect upon the minds of members. Though their opinions on financial subjects may be misty and wavering, it is safe to assert that every Senator and every Representative has an unalterable opinion upon the subject of local option—that opinion in nine cases out of ten being the identical opinion of a majority of the voters of the district he represents.

It is perfectly plain to the unprejudiced observer that there is not the slightest prospect of the passage of a local option law by the present Legislature. On Monday evening Mr. Fullerton, of Indiana county, tried to have a special session fixed for next Tuesday evening to consider the local option bill but the proposition was defeated by a vote of 68 in favor to 79 against. These 68 affirmative votes included all the friends of the bill and perhaps ten or twelve of its enemies who while opposing it were yet willing to give it a courteous and respectful consideration. The bill will probably be defeated by a two-thirds vote.

A full month has now passed since the Legislature met and though there has been a good deal of work but little has been accomplished. It seems now, more than ever, that much valuable time has been lost by not taking up the old calendar and finishing business that was already more than half completed. Many bills that had advanced to third reading on the old calendar are now in the hands of committees and not yet reported or are only on first reading on the new calendar, and much time will be taken up in going over the same points that were so thoroughly discussed last winter. Country members are beginning to see their mistake, but there is now no remedy.

Harrisburg is full of oil men just now, and the excitement in reference to the Free Pipe Line bill is on the increase. On Tuesday evening the bill was reported in the Senate with some important amendments providing that the first line built to the sea board shall have its terminus at Philadelphia, should the bill become a law. It was agreed that the bill should come up on second reading in the Senate to-day (Wednesday) at three o'clock p. m. The vote this afternoon will probably be a fair test of its strength and its fate may be practically decided before this letter reaches you.

It is probable that the committee to investigate the Allegheny railroad riots will be appointed this week. Though Allegheny and other counties that suffered from these riots are debarred from representation on this committee no doubt seems to exist that its composition will be perfectly satisfactory to the counties interested.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29, 1878.

Secretary Sherman's subordinates in New Orleans including J. Madison Wells and Anderson, on Saturday sought refuge in the United States Custom House from the offended justice of the State of Louisiana. It is fitting that the Custom Houses, the homes of fraud and peculation, should open their doors to the protection of such scoundrels as the members of the Louisiana Returning Board. The wonder is that the reform administration of Mr. Hayes, which is the creation of those criminals, did not protect them. It will be strange if the Newzealander, who comes to muse on the ruins of all countries, does not find in the history of Hayes and the Presidency and the Louisiana Returning Board of 1876 the most astonishing figures of all time. Looked at in any way there is nothing but fraud in all the proceedings from Nov. 8, 1876, from the incredible flight of conspirators to the shelter of a United States Custom House and their surrender by an administration which they created.

There is still doubt as to the passage through the Senate by a two-thirds vote, of the Silver Bill. It is the better opinion, perhaps, that the necessary votes to carry the measure through, over a veto, will not be forthcoming

To-day and hereafter the National Banks will receive subscriptions for the 4 per cent. Government bonds, in sums of $50 and upwards, a slight deduction from par being made on subscriptions of over $1,000.

There is the germ of reform in the House Military Committee's proposition to cut down the pay of army officers one and one-quarter millions of dollars, and increase the pay of non-commissioned officers. We have an officer, with an average salary of say $2,500 per year. to seven or eight enlisted men whose united pay amount to less than $1.500 per year. Here is certainly room for reform

Francis Murphy, the temperance advocate, is here and has met with a warm reception. He comes at an auspicious time, as our local societies already have the work well started.

One of Washington's noted men died on Saturday. Fred. D. Stuart first came before the country in connection with the famous Wilke's exploring expedition to the Antartic Ocean in which he occupied a position of responsiblity and the narrative of which he helped to write. During the late war he was an officer in the Navy, and since 1865 he has been prominent in Odd Fellowship and in other secret and benevolent societies, and as a friend and framer of reforms in the common school system. He lived surrounded by friends and without an enemy, and died in peace.

It is evident that the fight for a subsidy for the Texas Pacific Railroad is about to commence in earnest. Tom. Scott, a remarkably able man, and the head and front of the movement, has unfortunately for him, involved himself in a quarrel with other railroad men, and there is every indication now of a fight which will prevent aid to any road. Perhaps this is not an unmixed evil to the Southwestern country, for extending business will ultimately complete the road, and the defeat of this subsidy project will make it all the easier to get through Congress a liberal appropriation for the Mississippi levees and other strictly legitimate improvements in that section.

SEMINOLE.

Delivered From Death.

HOW A MAN DIED AND THEN CAME TO LIFE AGAIN—PREPARING THE BODY FOR THE GRAVE—AN AFFRIGHTED WATCHER—SAVED.

The Philadelphia Press of Tuesday says that there transpired on Monday in the small two story frame house, No. 123 St. Mary's street, an event which, while not without a parallel, is yet so strange and wonderful as to merit more than passing notice. Cases of suspended animation have been a fruitful theme for the romancists, and many a tangled story and weird plot has been woven out of apparent death, but subsequent and unexpected recovery. But while many well authenticated cases are to be found chonicled in medical works, one rarely falls to the lot of the newspaper reporter so full of thrilling details as that which the Press is enabled to give this morning. On last Sunday a week the congregation worshipping in the old Swede's church, on Swanson street, were alarmed by the sudden fall of one of their number, and it was soon learned by those present that a man named Schrack had been taken quite ill. Some of his friends removed the prostrate man to the open air, where he revived slightly, and was then carried to his home—the house above mentioned. Schrack was at once placed in bed, and Dr. Jones, of Washington avenue, called to attend him. It was found that the patient was suffering from hemorrhage, but no immediate danger was apprehended. During the past week Shrack apparently progressed slowly towards complete convalescence, and when Dr. Cantrell, another physician who attended him, visited the house on Sunday afternoon last, there had been apparently no unfavorable change; and when the doctor departed there was every reason to beleive that in a few days the patient would be completely restored to health. It was deemed advisable by his wife, however, that her sick husband be carefully watched, and accordingly a friend of the family agreed to sit up on Sunday night, and until Monday morning dawned. Through the earlier part of the night Shrack slept well, and when he awakened spoke cheerfully of his freedom from bodily suffering. About two o'clock yesterday morning the watcher was alarmed by a sudden change which became observable in the face of the sick man. The face assumed a yellowish hue, the extremities became cold and the eyes fixed and glassy. There could be no doubt but that the great change was about to take place, and the watcher calling the wife of the dying man, told her to prepare for the worst, which he was afraid had come. Shrack's condition betrayed no change until about 4 o'clock, when at once the muscles became rigid, the chin dropped, and the weeping wife was led from the bed, on which was all that remained of her husband. When the neighbors awoke yesterday morning the band of crape tied on the door told the story that Shrack was dead and the disconsolate wife was soon surrounded by sympathizing friends. In the meantime a man was engaged to take charge of the body, the blinds were let down, and the remains left in the silence and solitude of the room where the great change had taken place. Shortly before 8 o'clock the body was undressed, and the work of preparing it for the habiliments of the grave begun. Suddenly as the body was being moved, something which sounded like a muffled groan was heard; the eyes of the supposed corpse opened, the hands moved feebly and the dead had come to life! With a yell the attendant rushed from the room and told his story to the amazed auditors. The weeping wife and her friends and relatives crowded into the room and found that the man whom they had mourned as dead was really risen again as if from the grave. Restoratives were applied, physicians summoned, and before noon Shrack was so far restored that he bids well to ultimately recover.

Dr Cantrell, who visited him shortly after his deliverance from death, says this singucase is one of spasms of the heart. But the most wonderful part of this strange story is the experience of Shrack, as related by himself: "I was," he says, "in heaven, and I had no wish to return. I cannot describe my ecstatic visions—they were not of this world. I was, however, conscious that I had one foot on earth and dimly aware of what was going on around me, but I had no fear that I should be buried alive—no wish but to pass the brief space which separated me from the world of which I had seen the glories." Shrack is quite an intelligent man, and tells of his wonderful experiences without hesitation. His family and friends are, however, reticent on the subject, fearing to increase the already great excitement which has been manifested in the immediate vicinity of the house. The case, however, is one which, viewed either from a medical or a psycological standpoint, seems well worthy of farther investigation by scientific men.

The income tax case against Mr. Tilden has at last been brought before the Courts and argument has been begun. The case is likely to prove one of interest and perhaps importance, on account of the questions raised by demurrer. The claim of the Government is for taxes due in all the years from 1862 to 1870, and amounts, with interest, to about $150,000. The demurrer to the claim for the taxes for 1861 has been sustained by Judge Blatchford, and argument on the other claims has been begun. Mr. Tilden's council contends as to these claims, that the act of the assessors, in fixing or accepting the amount of taxable income, partook of the character of a judicial decision, binding on the Government and not subject to review. The attorneys for the Government hold, on the other hand, that the act of the assessors was purely ministerial, and that the errors made by them are open to review in the Courts. The decision of this disputed question may effect other claims besides those made under the Income Tax laws.

There is a party in town who deals largely in medicines who says he sells more of Dr. Coxe's Wild Cherry and Seneka than all other cough remedies combined. Price 25 and 50 cents.

PENNSYLVANIA

GREAT TRUNK LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.

The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In

Construction and Equipment
THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

THE SAFETY APPLIANCES

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER and PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

Pullman Palace Cars

are run on all Express Trains

From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington,

To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis and St. Louis,

WITHOUT CHANGE,

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

THE SCENERY
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

A Pleasing and Memorable Experience.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and if they are taken before the lungs are destroyed they effect a speedy cure. To these medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia owes his unrivalled success, in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, and the patient has relief from the prostrating cough. The Mandrake Pills must be freely used, to cleanse and stimulate the stomach and liver; they remove all obstructions, relax the gall bladder and start the bile freely, and the liver is soon relieved. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkili of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to avoid fresh cold. Full directions accompany each preparation. All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck personally, can do so at his principal office, coorner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday.

Letters to the above address, asking advice, answered free of charge.

Schenck's Medicines are sold by all druggists.

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!

Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due in part to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact any disturbance of the digestive functions necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects to some extent the quality of the blood.

E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron a sure cure. This is not a new preparation to be tried and found wanting, it has been prescribed daily for many years in the practice of eminent physicians with unparalleled success. It is not expected or intended to cure all the diseases to which the human family is subject, but is warranted to cure Dyspepsia in its most obstinate form. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron never fails to cure. Symptoms of Dyspepsia are loss of appetite, wind and rising of the food, dryness of the mouth, heartburn, distension of the stomach and bowels, constipation, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness and low spirits. Try the great remedy and be convinced of its merits. Get the genuine. Take only Kunkel's which is put up only in one dollar bottles. Depot, 259 North Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. It never fails. For sale by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Ask for E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron and take no other. Six bottles for five dollars, or one dollar per bottle.

WORMS! WORMS! WORMS!

E. F. Kunkel's Worm Syrup never fails to destroy Pin, Seat and Stomach Worms. Dr. Kunkel, the only successful physician who removes Tape Worm in two hours alive with head and no fee until removed. Common sense teaches if Tape Worm be removed, all other worms can be readily destroyed. Send for circular to E. F. Kunkel, 259 North Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa., or call on your druggist for a bottle of Kunkel's Worm Syrup, price $1. It never fails.

Harper's Bazar.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveler.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the young ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fireside enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N. Y. Evening Post.

READ, AND HEED.

To those of our subscribers who have paid up in response to notices given through the papers and by mail we are duly grateful. We have, by systematic arrangement got our list in such shape that we know who the honest patrons are, and can rely on them for each year's installment as it becomes due. We also have all the delinquents marked, so that we know who those are that sponge on the printer for their information. Let it be understood once for all that we publish a paper as a business out of which we expect to make a living. This paper is sold as the merchant sells his goods, for money, and those who do not pay for it, need not expect to receive it. We have no dead-head list. During the past year hundreds of names have been stricken off the roll, who failed to pay, and we are still at it. Others are on probation, and will be cut off unless they settle very soon. Our endeavor is to instruct the public by furnishing useful information and the news of the day, but we expect and intend to be paid for it. A small list of good paying subscribers is far better than a large one of worthless or doubtful names, and we propose to keep on cutting down until we have none left but honest men. If any now receive the paper who cannot afford to pay for it, they should notify us at once of their condition, pay up back dues, and stop the paper. To continue to take it when they know they will not pay for it is not much better than theft. It is obtaining goods under false pretences. Before very long those who have paid no attention to our numerous notices will be visited by a constable, and find themselves in for costs. Then they will come flocking in with indignation to know why we sued them. Our answer to such will be, we must be paid for our goods. If you do not pay anything for two years and a quarter, we take it for granted that you will never pay until compelled to do so All notes given for subscription will positively be sued in February unless settled before that time. If sued we shall add interest, and include subscription to date in the suit, at the rate of $2.50 a year. We have given very possible chance to those indebted to us to settle at the low rate, and as many have paid no attention to it, we shall charge the high rate to pay costs. We have exercised the greatest leniency, but forbearance has ceased to be a virtue and we shall now crack the legal whip.

Anyone who has not been satisfied with the weather of at least one day in the last two weeks, must be hard to please. It has been wet and dry, warm, cold, and moderate, in turns. Those who have not yet filled their ice houses had better seize the very first opportunity, if such a thing makes it appearance.

If you have ever paid the present proprietors of the COLUMBIAN anything, do not read this.

For the last time we allude to our non-paying subsbribers. Those who have paid nothing since October 1 1875 have received notices this week from J. J. Brower Esq., that unless they settle up during February court they will be sued on the Monday following. The matter is in the justice's hands, but payment may be made at this office up to that time. Those unsettled will then be pushed.

The troupe that was billed for Monday night in the play of the "Mollie Maguires" did not make its appearance, and has not been heard from yet. All sorts of rumors are afloat, one being that they disbanded up the river, another that ther were whipped by miners on account of the play, and still another that they were stopped until their bills were paid. We have been unable to ascertain the truth. If they had come here they would have had a good house.

At a meeting of church council held in council room January 17th, 1878, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS our pastor Rev. John McCron who has ministered so faithfully unto our spiritual wants during his ministry whilst among us is now about to leave us; therefore be it

Resolved, that it is with regret we learn of his determination to sever his connection with us as pastor, and that we accept his resignation with reluctance.

Resolved, that we ask an interest in his prayers in behalf of this congregation and church council.

Resolved, that these resolutions be transcribed in the minutes of the church record, and that a copy be presented to our pastor.

THE "MOLLIE" TRIALS.

The trial at Mauch Chunk goes on with increasing interest and important disclosures are expected. The evidence taken last week by the Grand Jury, in which the evidence of "Jimmy Kerrigan, the "squealer," was an important part, together with the testimony of Mrs. Smith the wife of the murdered man, and her sister, Mrs. Hess, and that of Drs. Longshore, Dimmick and Fowler. Kelly the "Bum," was in the "ould country" at the time of the murder, but a short time after his return to this country a little indiscretion on the part of Charley Sharpe and the "Hairy Man" caused them to make the assertion that "they were among the crowd that spilled Smith's blood." Kelly was well dressed, and at the end of his story he made a very favorable impression. After the evidence had been taken, on the next day the Grand Jury returned true bills against the "Hairy Man," Charley Sharpe, and Thomas Durkin. They will be tried at the March term of court, and an interesting, even exciting trial is anticipated.—Mauch Chunk Gazette.

Kelly has since been returned to our jail by the Sheriff of Carbon county.

The Country is flooded with counterfeit money, more now than ever before, and storekeepers had better avoid all risks, and subscribe for the only reliable and official Counterfeit Detector issued, and then loss from receiving counterfeit money need never be incurred. All handling bank notes have only to keep at hand for consultation Peterson's Counterfeit Detector, a semimonthly publication containing descriptions of all counterfeit notes as soon as they appear, also a complete list of broken, closed, failed, and fradulent banks. Every number of the Detector contains likewise lists of all the National and State banks in the country, financial news and items, price current, reviews of the money and stock markets, &c., and is, in short, a very valuable publication, and no business man in the country should be without it. The rate of subscription for the Monthly issue is only $1.50 a year; Semi-monthly, $3.00 a year. Subscriptions may commence with any month, and are payable in advance. A canvasser could get up a list of subscribers in this neighborhood. Address T. B. Peterson & Bros. Philadelphia, Pa., for specimen copy.

As there is a great furore now about Old Coins, we would advise all to get a copy of Peterson's Coin Book, containing perfect fac-simile impressions of the Coins of the World. It will be sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of $1.—by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.

CONSUMPTION CURED.—An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affectione, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. THE RAILROAD CASE.

Wednesday afternoon was the time appointed for the argument on S. P. Kase's application to be made a party defendant to the bill in equity of W. I. Greenough Trustee, against the Danville, Hazleton & Wilkesbarre Railroad to foreclose a mortgage of $1,400,000. The matter had been referred to a master in Philadelphia to take testimony and report as to whether Mr. Kase was a bondholder of the corporation, as to the location of the main office of the company, and whether the bondholders had done anything barring them from the right to request the Trustee to foreclose the mortgage. The master reported that Kase was a bondholder, that the main office was in Bloomsburg, and that the bondholders had not waved the right to foreclose. Exceptions were filed to this report, and the argument was upon these exceptions. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon H. P. Hepburn, Esq., of Philadelphia opened for Mr. Kase and spoke ably for nearly two hours. S. G. Thompson, Esq., also of Philadelphia, occupied about an hour in behalf of the trustee, and made a strong argument. Mr. Thompson is a forcible speaker and an excellent lawyer. Mr. Crawford, another city attorney argued for the bondholders, and insisted upon the speedy foreclosure of the mortgage. In the evening Mr. Buckalew occupied a short time in behalf of the plaintiff, and the argument was closed by Judge F. Carroll Brewster of Philadelphia for Mr. Kase. Judge Brewster is one of the ablest lawyers in the State, and his argument on this occasion was a fine specimen of legal acumen and oratory. At the close of the argument Judge Elwell took the papers and said he would dispose of the case at the earliest possible moment. The other counsel engaged in the suit are Col. J. G. Freeze for the Railroad company and Brockway & Elwell for S. P. Kase.

GROUNDLESS OBJECTIONS.

Some having tried "put up" medicines without obtaining the relief promised, indiscriminately condemned them. Is this fair? Suppose a judge should argue that because the last three prisoners had been found guilty, he should condemn the fourth without trial. Is not such reasoning absurd? And yet are not those who condemn all medicines, because they have been deceived in one or two, equally as unjust? The family medicines manufactured by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., are the purest and best in the market. His Golden Medical Discovery has, for many years, been the standard remedy in all affections of the liver, stomach, and blood and when used in connection with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy effects a speedy cure of catarrh. While his Favorite Prescription is the only offered, deserving of confidence, for the cure of those diseases and weakness peculiar to women. Are you skeptical concerning its powers to cure? If so, address any of the following named ladies:

Mrs. Francis Huswick, Versailles, Ohio; Mrs. Leroy Putnam, North Wharton, Pa.; Mrs. Mary A. Hunolt, Edina, Mo.; Mrs. Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa.; Mrs. D. L. Grill, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Harriet E. Maloney, West Springfield, Pa.; Mrs. R. Hiatt, Emporia, Kan.; Miss Louise Pratt, Dodgeville, Mass.; Mrs. L. D. Doshield, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. C. Allison, Protector, Iowa; Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Thomas, Ont.; Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Lucy Caliman, Barnesville, Ohio; Mrs. Nancy McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa; Mrs. L. G. Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.; Miss Ellen Cady, Westfield N. Y.; Mrs. Anthony Amann, Verona, N. Y.; Mrs. B. N. Brooks, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. F. H. Webb, Watertown, N. Y. Hundreds of references can be given at Dr. Pierce's office. Call on your druggist for Pierce's Memorandum Books.

THE FEBRUARY ELECTION.

On the third Tuesday of February, which will be the 19th day of the month, election will be held for the purpose of choosing township and borough officers for the ensuing year. In Bloomsburg we are to elect a President of the Town Council, six members of Town Council, two school directors to serve for three years, one school director to serve for two years to fill the unexpired term of W. B. Koons, two Constables, two assessors, one Judge and two Inspectors of election in East Bloomsburg, and one Judge and two Inspectors of election in West Bloomsburg. There will probably be the usual contest over the Town Council, the main issue being, as it has been for the past two years, between the party of progress and the old fogies. The cow question will all be fought over again, and the result of the election will depend very much upon the activity of those who are opposed to turning the public streets into pastures. The question is not as to the rights of the poor man alone, but as to the rights of all citizens, and it must be as the majority vote. The political complexion of the council is a matter of no importance. What is needed are good, honest citizens who will conduct our municipal affairs for the best interest of all.

The selection of proper men for constables is another important matter. Do not vote for a man for this office because he asks you to do so, but vote for those who are competent to perform the duties imposed upon them. The good behavior of the town depends largely on having active and fearless constables.

KATHLEEN: A Perfect Love Story, by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, author of "Theo," "That Lass o' Lowrie's," "Pretty Polly Pemberton," etc., is published lately by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, and it is the most perfect and charming of all love stories, tender, true, and pathetic. "Theo" and "Pretty Polly Pemberton," by the same author, were good, but this one is better. Kathleen was a natural beauty, and made a very decided impression on the heart of our hero long before she had learned the meaning of the word "Love." It was at a little village on the coast of Maine, where she lived with her old grandmother, nine years before our story opens. Carl Seymour was an artist, and not rich when he met his love for the second time at Newport—met her to fall blindly at her feet, and worshipping her as all others did. But this second meeting was very different from the first; the old grandmother was dead, and Kathleen was chaperoned by a wordly-minded aunt, who had determined her niece should make a brilliant marriage. Carl Seymour proposed, and was rejected, to find her engaged to a millionaire. After three years of separation, in which time the aunt's money must have taken wings, Kathleen reappears as the governess to Mrs. Armadale's children, a sister of Carl Seymour, in Mr. Seymour's house. Mrs. Armadale having to leave home on business, Kathleen assumed entire command. Is it any wonder then, that Carl Seymour and Kathleen being thrown together thus, should forget all their past troubles, and that their cloud, which looked so black to both, had at the last, so bright a silver lining!—with various complications ensuing, we would refer the reader to the book itself. "Kathleen" is written in Mrs. Burnett's best mood, and is as pathetic as any one could wish. It is issued in uniform style and price with Mrs. Burnett's "Theo," and "Pretty Polly Pemberton," with "Bessie's Six Lovers," with "That Girl of Mine." Mrs. Southworth's new and popular novel, "The Red Hill Tragedy," and will have a large sale, as its price is but Fifty Cents a copy, and it will be found for sale by all Booksellers and on all Rail Road Trains, or copies of it will be sent to anyone, to any place, post paid, on remitting Fifty Cents in a letter to the Publishers, T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT'S SALARY.

A bill has been favorably reported in the house, at Harrisburg, in regard to the salaries of county superintendents of common schools. It provides that after the present term of those officers the compensation paid shall be at the rate of $2 for each public school in the county, and $1 for each square mile of territory within the county limits. Counties can pay more than this, if they see proper, but the excess must be paid out of their respective school appropriations.

In inserting the new card of Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier we desire to add our personal testimony to the fact that the promises of this firm's advertisement are more than fulfilled in their dealings with all their immense constituency of customers the country over. Their establishment, which ten years ago was universally known in their own city, has since been steadily growing in prestige and popularity, until now it has almost a national reputation. It seems hard to believe that any business should have grown during the past few years of general shrinkage and hard times, but weare assured on undoubted authority that Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier's business is far larger than before the panic of 1873, and is steadily growing with every year. An interesting sight may be witnessed almost any fine day by spending half an hour in their establishment and observing the smooth and systematic manner in which immense quantities of goods are distributed, and great crowds of customers promptly and carefully waited on by those who know.

We are reliably informed that they have customers not only in every county of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, but in every state of the Union.

Their mail order department enables them to furnish to consumers over the entire country all that may be needed in dry goods and household supplies, thereby saving them the expense and time incident to a visit to the city. Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier guarantee that every order filled is at the lowest price at which goods are sold that day over the counters. The great convenience and economy of this system of obtaining supplies cannot be over-estimated.

It speaks for itself; is what a lady said of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the other day, for a single bottle cured my child of a most dreadful cough.

"GERMAN SYRUP"

No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as Boschee's German Syrup. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine was distributed free of charge by Druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Severe Coughs, Pneumonia and other diseases of the throat and lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that German Syrup will cure them. The result has been that druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your druggists and ask what they know about it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case.

Priceless Discovery.
A Sure Cure for Piles.

A sure cure for the blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy) called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of twenty-five and thirty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. William's Ointment supports the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for Piles and nothing else. Thousands of cured patients attest its virtues and physicians of all schools pronounce it the greatest contribution to medicine of the age. It matters not how long or severely you have been suffering, you can be cured.

Mr. Joseph M. Ryder, Cleveland, Ohio, writes: I suffered for years with Itching and Ulcerated Piles, tried remedy after remedy advertised, and consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati, and this city; and spent hundreds of dollars, but found no relief until I obtained a box of Dr. William's Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely. I had a part of the box left which I gave to a friend of mine who had doctored with many physicians, and as a last resort went to the noted Hot Springs, Arkansas, for treatment. He informs me that the Indian ointment has also cured him of the piles. It is certainly a wonderful discovery, and should be used by the many thousands who are now suffering with that dread disease.

☞$10,000 Reward will be paid for a more certain remedy. Sold by all Druggists. DR. G. W. FRAZIER, sole proprietor, Cleveland O.

DON'T NEGLECT A COUGH

or Cold, when 25 cents will buy a bottle of Dr. Frazier's Cough Syrup at any drug store. It has wrought a complete change in the Cough Medicines, is pleasant as honey and always cures.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

☞ Dr. Frazier's Cough Syrup used in connection with Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Standard Steam Laundry, Cleveland, O, Oct. 30, '76.
DR. FRAZIER, Dear Sir: I feel it a duty I owe to suffering humanity to write you. For some time I was sorely afflicted with a cough, raising bad stuff, with every symptom of being a confirmed consumptive. I tried different medicines and cures without finding relief; I also consulted three of our most prominent Cleveland physicians, the last one of which pronounce my case serious, and informed me that I could not live more than a few months. About this time, hearing of your wonderful success, I commenced taking your Syrup in connection with your Root Bitters, and was at once benefitted, and after using the medicine some two months I find myself entirely cured. TORRENCE DUNN.

☞ Mr. Dunn again writes, under date of August 4, 1877,—Dr. Frazier, Dear Sir: I can endorse your medicines more strongly than ever from the fact that it is now nearly one year since I was cured. My lungs are to-day strong and sound, having no return of the disease.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhage, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c; regular size, 75c.

How a Man takes care of his Baby.

In spite of all the statements to the contrary, there are men who help take care o their children. They are the kindest and best husbands in the world. They do not wish to see their wives overburdened with care and worry, and they intend to help them a great deal, and actually do. Yet it cannot be denied, that their opinion concerning the value of their services and their wives' opinion on the same subject do not exactly coincide. One of these good husbands will help dress the children for breakfast, and speak of it with a grandly virtuous air, while the fact is that he only washed the face of one while his wife washed and dressed the other three. He helps get the children ready for church; that is, he buttons up Dick's boots and helps Jenny put on her gloves after he has leisurely and comfortably dressed himself, while his wife ties sashes, and hunts up odd gloves and puts on collars, and curls one child's hair and washes another's hands, and in the intervals "does up" her own hair, and saves the baby from the razor, and Jenny's best bonnet from the baby. He stands patiently (?) in the hall as the bells begin to toll, and mildly calls, "It is getting late, Maria." Which fact Maria knows as well as he does, for her hands are trembling so with nervousness and haste that she can hardly put a single pin in its right place. Just as the last strokes of the bell are sounding, they hurry off to church, losing entirely the calming influence which comes from a leisurely walk on a fine Sunday morning. He takes the opportunity to remark, with just a shade of reproof in his gentle tones, "I can't understand why it takes you so long to get ready. It really does seem as if with as much as I do to help you, we need not be obliged to hurry so at the last minute. I don't like to see you go up the aisle with your face as red as a lobster,"—which of course, is very soothing to Maria's irritated nerves.

The father cares for the baby at night in very much the same fashion. The mother has lifted the child into her own bed, and back into its cradle again, in the vain hope that in one place or the other he will go to sleep, has brought "drinks of water" for him, rocked the cradle and sung to its uneasy occupant softly and sleepily for an hour, till finally she thinks that if she is to be in this semiamphibious state, half out of bed and half in, the air from the open window is too cool for her. She knows if she tries to shut it herself the little tyrant will instantly miss her presence and be ten times wider awake than ever, and all the hour's singing and rocking will be labor lost. So, with much regret, she softly asks John to get up and close the window. He has lain remarkably still and breathed rather heavily, and is somewhat difficult to arouse for a man who afterward declares he was wide awake all the time. But like the good husband he is, he cheerfully closes the window, and gets an extra blanket for the baby, and pleasantly asks, as he settles down into the pillows again, "What makes the baby so uneasy to-night?" He manifests a strange indifference to his wife's reply and in fact nothing more is heard from him till morning, while his wife sleepily and painfully works away for an hour.

But at breakfast, with what complacency does he speak of the trouble the baby made us last night, with an "us" fairly comprehensiveness. The next night he goes into a room by himself to sleep. He "cant stand it to have his rest broken so," but adds generously, "I'll take care of him the next night." And so he does till about twelve o'clock, when the baby wakes and cries. For ten minutes he tries faithfully to get him to sleep again, and then ignominiously retreats and calls for "mamma"—From article by Mary Blake, in "Home and Society," Scribner for February.

Preparing the Land for Grass.

We are apt, very apt, to overlook the fact that land intended for grass should receive more thorough culture than any other, because for years while in grass, it has not the advantage of the plough and other implements to stir the soil, but must rest and pack and get more and more in a coddition to keep out the air, and let in and pass off less readily the water. We should, therefore, thoroughly prepare the soil. Plough as deep as may be, and subsoil well; pulverize and enrich the soil—enriching it will make it more loose and mellow, and keep it longer in that condition, as well as increase the yield. Such land will "catch its seed, and if plentifully applied, will be certain under anything like favorable circumstances to form a thick set.

But let there be a cold, hard undersoil, and without manure—what can be expected of it? Just what we see; light crops, getting lighter each year until it will hardly pay for harvesting. Such land when the plough turns it down, will be found to be hard. The sod amounts to but little, whereas in properly treated land it will yield from sixty to seventy loads of manure per acre. A mellow seed bed, deeply loosened soil well enriched, plenty of seed sown as early as possible—are the points to be secured in putting down grass land.—Rural World.

A learned lawyer was once accused of having disgraced the bar by taking silver from a client, the etiquette of the profession requiring that his fee should be in gold. "I took silver;" he replied, "becasse I could not get gold; but I took every farthing the fellow had in the world, and I hope you do not call that disgracing the profession."

LITTLE MISS MUSLIN "RECEIVES" ON NEW YEAR'S DAY.

BY JOHN BROWNJOHN.

Little Miss Muslin of of Quintillion Square
Had a great many serious crosses to bear;
Yet, if one thing could trouble her more than another,
It was (and indeed t'was too bad!) that her mother
Had firmly avowed that for some years to come
Poor little Miss Muslin must still stay at home
From dinners and concerts and parties and balls,
And was even too young to have beaux, or make calls.

At last, little Miss Muslin of Quintillion Square,
One bright New Year's morning was heard to declare
She'd no longer submit; and that very same day,
When the family all, save herself, were away,
She dressed herself carefully,—just what she wore
I'd not venture to say, though I'm morally sure
There was not to be found in all Quintillion Square
A more genteel young person than she, anywhere.

"There!" said little Miss Muslin of Quintillion Square,
As she put a last finishing touch to her hair
And curtsied quite low to herself in the glass,
"There, my little Miss Muslin, I think you will pass,
Just as though you weren't old enough yet to be 'out!'
Why, what could your dear mother be thinking about?"
Then she hurried down-stairs, for 'twas getting quite late,
And sat down to "receive" in magnificent state.

But little Miss Muslin of Quintillion Squrre
After waiting a long while, arose in dispair,
"I declare! It this isn't too bad!" exclaimed she,
"I don't see where my gentlemen friends can all be!
I'll just step to the front door and take a look out.
May be there are some of them loitering about
And afraid to come in. Why, this won't do at all!
To sit here all the evening and not have a call."

Yet, little Miss Muslin of Quintillion Square,
When she got to the door, could perceive no one there
Save an ill-favored stranger, who looked up at her
With a questioning glance,—so she said, "My dear sir,
Would you mind coming in just a moment, to call?
To be sure, you don't seem a nice person at all;
But perhaps you will do,—I can't have people say
That I haven't had even one caller to-day."

"But first," said Miss Muslin of Quintillion Square,
"I will take you out into the dining-room where
The refreshments are ready," And so, with a grin,
The stranger quite willingly followed her in.
"Here are chicken, and salad, and mince-pies," said she,
"Pray help yourself freely,—and here is cold tea.
I do hope you'll excuse my not off'ring you wine,
But I'll never give that to a caller of mine!"

So the stranger accordingly drew up a chair,
And then sat down and ate nearly all there was there;
Then arose and looked round. "Ah!" said he, "There's a closet
I suppose it is there that you keep on deposit
All this plate and those elegant spoons I see here?
Are you sure you can get them all in there, my dear?"
"O, yes," cried Miss Muslin, throwing open the door,
"It will hold all our silver and very much more."

But, alas! poor Miss Muslin! The very same minute
That she opened the closet she found herself in it,
With the door closed and fastened behind her quite tight.
Whereupon, she sank down, nearly perished with fright;
And perhaps 'twas five minutes, perhaps it was more,
E'er she found strength to cry out and pound on the door.
And 'twas some time, even then, before Bridget got there
To release poor Miss Muslin of Quintillion Square.

She was no sooner out than Miss Muslin's first care
Was to look for the man. He was no longer there!
It would seem he had made up his mind not to wait
And had gone,—taking with him the spoons and the plate.

And although the Police were soon put on his track,
I am sorry to say that he never came back.
As for little Miss Muslin, I don't think you'll hear
She received New Year's callers again for a year.
—In Wide Awake.

Stanley, in his last contribution to the geography of Africa, sheds much new light upon the darkness which enshrouds Africa, even if it does not clear up the great problem. He has not discovered the source of the Nile, but, according to his own story, he has discovered a greater river and traced it from its source to its outlet, and this too, after greater perils and hardships than ever Mungo Park depicted in his apochryphal narratives,—He has changed the entire physical configuration of Africa and dissipated a dozen theories and as many maps.—Briefly stated, he has made the tour of the centre of the continent, beginning with the east coast, opposite Zanibar, and finding the head waters of a great stream, he has followed it to its outlet where it empties into the Atlantic. This is the stream known as the Congo.—Stanley christens it the Lualaba, and describes it as the Amazon of Africa, compared to which the Nile is the Mississippi, and says that while the Nile has the greater length the Congo could furnish water to three Niles.

The Lualaba, or Congo, has its source in the table land south of Lake Tanyanika, and to the east of Lake Bangweolo (in whose exploration Livingstone died,) it flows northwardly a few degrees beyond the Equator, and thence southward to the Atlantic, having a total length of 2,900 miles. Chains of great lakes feed its northward passage, and north of Nyangwe the first group of cataracts begins on the twenty sixth meridian of east longitude; below this the river widens into a great canal, running through a vast, populous plain, where there are towns in some places two miles long, neat houses, fairs and markets. This is the land of ivory temples, with the commonest articles of domestic use made of ivory; also, a land of the oil-palm, cotton, India rubber.—The natives are engrossed in trade. In contrast to these are the tribes found in the region of the Upper Cataract, who are very aggressive and, though not habitually cannibalistic, always treacherous and blood-thirsty. The second region of Cataracts extends, in a series of sixty-two falls, for 180 miles to the Yellala Fall, 110 from its mouth. As the Congo region south of and drained by the river is only a small portion of the country through which the Lualaby flows, while in its course the natives give it many names, a corrected geography will no more call it the Congo than it would name the Susquehanna river the river of Luzerne.—Ex.

He bought a guitar and practised for six long weary months. But at the end of that time a smile of joy lit up his wan and weary face, and his brow grew radiant with joy as he inspected the corn on the thumb of his right hand. The hour was 10 P. M., and he wandered through the stilly night to the boarding-house where she lived, and directly under that window which had been so often sanctified by her presence he commenced to toot (Twang, twang, bim.) "I wander b-i-i the brookside (kling, clang, boo,) I wonder b i i the mill"—and the sash was gently raised with a crash, and a deep bass voice yelled out; "I wishes you fall into your brook off your brookside und trown yourself in dose mill, oder I plow my visel and call a polizeidiener." It was cruel of her to have changed her room without letting him know.

THE NEEDHAM
Musical Cabinet

PRICE, $50.
DESCRIPTIVE CIRCULARS FREE.

THIS new and wonderful Instrument enables any one, whether understanding music or not, to play any desired melody or harmony, sacred or secular, from the most plaintive dirge to the most lively dance music. It possesses a mechanism of marvelous simplicity, requiring but the intelligence of a child to manipulate, yet capable of reproducing, without limitation, the musical compositions of the PAST, PRESENT and FUTURE. The execution is faultless, strict in melody, harmony and rhythm, and the instrument is eminently adapted for Sunday Schools, prayer and revival meetings, home devotional exercises, and in all cases where good, correct music is required, and no musician is at hand to perform. STANDARD
REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its alterative properties, cures diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers, or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets.
Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, or MULTUM IN PARVO PHYSIC, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eructations from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using
DR. PIERCE'S
Fountain Nasal Injector, OR DOUCHE.

This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. It is so pleasant and so simple that a child can understand it. Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications.

CATARRH SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucus, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is a perfect specific for this loathsome disease. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents, Douche at 60 cents, by all Druggists.

IRON IN THE BLOOD
Is Nature's own Vitalizer!
PERUVIAN SYRUP
PERUVIAN SYRUP

A protected solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's own Vitalizing agent, Iron in the Blood, and cures a thousand ills, simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

For a Spring Medicine

It has no equal. Stimulating without reaction, its effects are permanent, differing in this respect from all Alcoholic Tonics.

PERUVIAN SYRUP
PERUVIAN SYRUP
CURES
Dyspepsia, Debility, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss Constitutional Vigor of Female Complaints, Etc.

FROM A WELL-KNOWN WRITER:
From Mrs. Mary Francis, well-known as "Margaret Blount,"
BRIGHTBANK, Woodstock, Vt., Oct. 6, 1876.
Seth W. Fowle & Sons:

Gentlemen—Two years ago I began to take the Peruvian Syrup. I was in a languid, half-alive state through incipient dyspepsia and inactive circulation of the blood. Three bottles of the Peruvian Syrup changed this to glowing, bounding health. I have a fine appetite, can sleep soundly and can walk five miles easily without resting, and frequently stay out of doors all day long without fatigue. A lady cousin, who resides with me, took the Syrup during her recovery from a serious illness of some weeks. [illegible] Five bottles of the syrup have so built up her system that [illegible] can walk three miles in fine weather without fatigue. I consider the medicine so invaluable to persons of [illegible] Yours, respectfully,
MARY FRANCIS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP
PERUVIAN SYRUP
From Chas. H. Colgate, Esq.,
One of the firm of Colgate & Co., Manufacturers of Flavoring Extracts, 21 Blackstone street, Boston.
SOMERVILLE, Mass., Dec. 6, 1876.
Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Sons:

Gentlemen—Last Spring my little daughter, aged five, became very much emaciated with loss of appetite, and great prostration of strength. So much so that we were obliged to take her out of school. This continued through the summer, causing us much anxiety. After trying various remedies without deriving any benefit, our family physician recommended the use of Peruvian Syrup. After using it one week she showed a marked improvement in the child's condition, and in a month after was rapidly gaining in health and strength, her appetite being excellent. At this date she is perfectly well, with round, plump cheeks and healthy color, and is again attending school regularly. I consider this improvement to her health entirely due to the Peruvian Syrup, and feel that I cannot too highly recommend it as a tonic.
Very gratefully yours,
CHAS. H. COLGATE.
